Fourth Quarter 2015 Single Family Housing Report

GOSR operates the NY Rising Housing Recovery Program to address the pressing and varied needs of homeowners throughout the State. With thousands of housing damaged or destroyed as a result of Superstorm Sandy, the State—from the very early stages—made fundamental decisions to speed up the distribution of funds, empower individuals in the recovery process, and provide opportunities to pursue optional resiliency measures. GOSR recognizes the extreme importance of balancing two competing priorities: the first, to get families back in their homes as quickly as possible, and the second, to ensure compliance with HUD requirements while providing proper oversight of precious federal resources.

Fourth Quarter 2015 NY Rising Community Reconstruction Program Report

In April 2013, Governor Cuomo announced the NY Rising Community Reconstruction (NYRCR) Program– a first-of-its kind participatory program that has grown to assist 124 storm-damaged communities. The more than $700 million program empowers communities to identify local needs and assets, and develop projects through an intensive planning and implementation process.

Following two rounds of planning (the second culminating in March of 2015), the NYRCR Program is now working with local partners to implement recovery and resiliency projects proposed in the final plans. The projects proposed in Community Reconstruction plans were conceptual and did not incorporate project design or engineering. After the planning process concluded, GOSR designed and stood-up a capital projects program to implement proposed projects. The program design includes implementing projects through agreements with local governments, where possible, to build local capacity and to continue the Program’s local, grassroots orientation. After entering into local partnership agreements, GOSR worked with subrecipients to define the scope of projects and procurement engineering and design consultants in compliance with federal regulations. Engineering, environmental review and design is now underway on many community reconstruction projects, the first of which will soon go into construction.
